Taskade For Firefox (April-2022)

Taskade is a web app for managing ideas and work tasks, which you can access via a browser extension. It's great for individuals and teams, as it can help you capture and organize all the ideas, projects and tasks that you may encounter in your day-to-day activities. The interface is minimalistic, letting you focus on work and get things done. With Taskade, you can create checklists, outlines and notes, and it has a bunch of templates for users who want to get started right away. This is a Firefox add-on that works in the same way in Chrome, but it isn't compatible with Android. Security and privacy policy The extension is powered by Google and keeps no personal data. You don't have to worry about privacy as everything is done by Taskade, not Google. It is possible that some information regarding your browser activity, such as the websites that you visit, may be logged. This is standard behavior for browser extensions and is handled by Google. We have no access to your personal data and we don't store it. We use the information we collect to improve your experience with the extension.
