The five-year project has replaced 2,800 public sector vehicles, with members of the public donating to the VicRoads BCBA-Animal project. Members of the public and the Victorian Government collaborated on the funding and donations, with $18.5 million contributed to the project. In a statement, VicRoads said the vehicles would be used to transport animals to vets and animal hospitals. "The upgraded vehicles will also give the teams an advantage in responding to emergency calls in Victoria's most rural and remote communities," it said. Last month, Animal Ambulance Victoria appealed for a donation of $50 million to upgrade its fleet, but the fundraising drive ended up only raising $3 million.I've been wanting to do a "Christmas at the Car Wash" for awhile now, so I'm very happy with how this one turned out. I love how the car wash looks up at you as you approach and the noise of the car wash is audible at times, which really makes the whole thing. I also wanted to play up the lights in this one a bit, since it's such a Christmas-themed illustration. Here's the link to the video version of this piece: Have a happy holiday!
